The Empire Sandy under full sail

Once again, the crew of the Empire Sandy, Canada's tallest sailing ship, will be hoisting the sails to get the Scottish Studies Foundation's annual cruise underway on Sunday September 6.

Almost to the day, this will mark the 24th anniversary of our first Tall Ship Cruise, designed to commemorate the arrival of the Scots pioneers in Pictou, Nova Scotia, back in 1773 on board the old ship Hector. The intrepid emigrants who made that historic and difficult voyage are a major part of Canada's pioneer heritage. They encouraged their fellow clansfolk to follow and help change Canada from a backwoods colony into a nation that is now the envy of the world. So let's not forget them!

As in the past, we ask you to dig out your old tartan or plaid clothing or anything that might look a bit pioneer-like and come down to Harbourfront in Toronto to help us recreate the pioneer spirit! It's an event for all age groups. And don't forget to tell your friends!

The Empire Sandy gives you a great sense of fun and adventure as its billowing white sails on three lofty masts glide you along Toronto's spectacular waterfront, beyond Toronto Island and out into Lake Ontario.

It's a great time to be out on the lake and if you are looking for a photo or video opportunity this is it!

Kent Tocher

We have arranged to give you a taste of the Scots experience with Peter Campbell on the pipes and are also delighted to have Kent Tocher entertain us on board the ship. Kent can best be described as a “one man band” who sings, plays the keyboard, guitar, saxophone, clarinet and harmonica, and is sure to have everyone up singing and dancing. So you don’t have be Scottish to enjoy the event, as it is sure to appeal to all and will be a day to remember

We look forward to seeing you on board!

CRUISE INFORMATION

There will be two cruises: the morning cruise boards at 11:00 a.m., the afternoon cruise boards at 2:00 p.m.

The Empire Sandy will be docked on the south side of Queens Quay West, directly opposite Lower Spadina Avenue, beside the Music Garden. Parking is readily available in the vicinity of Harbourfront but be sure to leave yourself time to find a spot.
